

Figure 1.6 Primary U.S. Energy and Fuel Uses

We use primary fuels to make electricity, move vehicles, and produce heat. Coal generates electricity. Oil is the fuel of transportation. Natural gas is used principally for raw heat; it also now generates 18% of our electricity.